

A02a-RootMatrix_MaryAnnMastri_ITAI2376_Contribution Journal

All group members participated. Some more than others at different times and with different people. This assignment required each person to do their part independently. Cesar is the chosen person that will submit for this lesson since only one person can submit.

I spent time explaining and re-explaining that there were to be 8 comparisons after discussion with you, the professor, as to the assignment requirements. Team members analysed the wording of the assignment and quickly realized it was differed from what you told me. We decided to go with what you told me the assignment was and were willing to take the chance that we were overachievers with 8 comparison reports.

I picked my 2 sets of comparison pairs and completed my work independently. I created individual documents for each comparison, a single power point presentation, a reflective Journal and a Contribution journal.
